current situation and problems of Myanmar education

THWE Thet Htar San

the impact of this education system

- lack of employability and relevant skills of graduated students for workforce in Myanmar`s current society

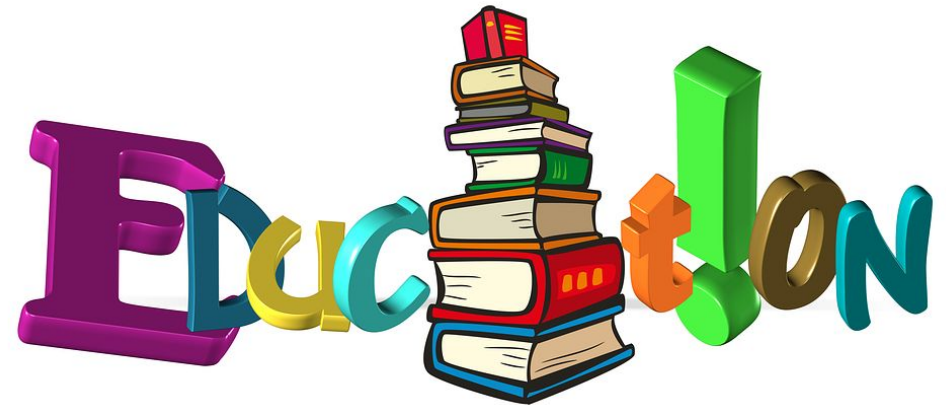

the main challenges in transforming Myanmar education system into international standard.

also related to the education of Nepal and other south east Asian countries because most of the problems of south east Asian countries are similarly the same.

Myanmar's education system was highly regarded in Asia until the 1960's, when the military government sharply reduced the sector's budget

The current civilian-led government has committed to remedying the situation with the launch of its National Education Strategic Plan (NESP) 2016-21.

The education system I had when I was in Myanmar and now is different.

spend most of my school lifetime from primary school to high school sitting at the desk, reading and memorizing all the things that are written in the textbook.

lecture times for sport and music
But we didn't have to do it had rarely school events and activities for teamwork.

transforming Myanmar education system into international standard.

- Promote the quality of teachers.
- foreign direct investment (FDI)
